

NON-DISCRIMINATION POLICY

1. RATIONALE

- 1.1 As a Catholic Institution for Higher Education, the University of Saint Joseph (the University) is committed, following the teaching of the Gospels, to maintaining an academic, work and living environment in which all members of the University community, guests, and other third-parties conducting business with the University, are treated with respect, equal rights and human dignity.
- 1.2 In support of this commitment, and under the constitutional principle of equality under Article 25 of the Basic Law of Macao Special Administrative Region, the University prohibits discrimination, related to any protected category including, but not limited to, “their nationality, descent, sex, race, language, religion, political persuasion or ideological belief, educational level, economic status or social conditions”.
- 1.3 To that end, the University will respond to all complaints of alleged discrimination, and will take steps to ensure that all allegations are subject to effective investigation and handled according to applicable policies and legal requirements.
- 1.4 The University is committed and fully supports the principles of equality and diversity in employment. As part of that principle that all staff, regardless of age, disability, gender, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, or any other irrelevant distinction should receive equal pay for the same or broadly similar work, for work rated as equivalent and work of equal value.
- 1.5 The University encourages anyone who believes he or she has been the subject of discrimination, to report the matter immediately.
- 1.6 The University will provide a special mechanism to determine of whether this Policy has been violated because of discrimination conduct, or filing false complaints.
- 1.7 The University will take a course of action, including any disciplinary penalty, depending on the particular facts and circumstances involved.

2. DEFINITIONS AND FORMS OF DISCRIMINATION

- 2.1 Non-Discrimination Policy, in the context of the University, is defined and understood, as a thought-out policy, measures and practices aimed at preventing an intimidating academic, work and living environment results from ill conduct that has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an employee's work performance, or creates an intimidating, hostile, offensive or objectionable working environment to those who have access to the University grounds, facilities and services by providing a safe and secure environment whilst protecting the University’s reputation from damage.
- 2.2 As used in this policy, the following terms have the following meaning:
  - i. Protected characteristics: Protected characteristics are those personal traits, characteristics and/or beliefs that are defined by applicable law as protected from discrimination. They include race, creed, colour, sex, gender identity or expression, age, national origin, ancestry, religion, physical or mental disability, veteran status, marital or domestic partnership status, affectional or sexual orientation and/or other characteristics protected by applicable law.

- ii. Discrimination is defined as an adverse treatment of an individual based on a protected characteristic, rather than individual merit.

2.3 Conducts constitute discrimination when a person is treated less favourably based on the person's protected characteristics. This includes but not limited to:

- i. a protected characteristic the individual possess;
- ii. a protected characteristic possessed by someone who the individual is associated with (such as a member of their family or a colleague);
- iii. a protected characteristic the individual is thought to possess, regardless of whether the perception is correct or not.

2.4 Discrimination also occurs when a person is:

- i. singled out or targeted for different or less favorable treatment (e.g., more severe discipline, lower salary increase) based on the protected characteristic the individual possess;
- ii. denied employment or admittance based on the protected characteristic the individual possess;
- iii. termination of employment or an educational program based on the protected characteristic the individual possess.

2.5 Discrimination occurs when:

- i. policies, procedures, requirements, rules and arrangements, even if informal, and whether written down or not are put into place, which applies to everyone; and is not in itself discriminatory but it could put those with a certain protected characteristic at a disadvantage.

2.6 Discrimination take place when:

- i. an employee suffers a 'detriment' because the employee has done (or because it is suspected to have done or may do) one of the following things in good faith:
  - a. makes an allegation of discrimination;
  - b. supports a complaint of discrimination;
  - c. gives evidence relating to a complaint about discrimination;
